I'm a driven, roll-up-the-sleeves professional who thrives on tackling challenges and making things work better, whether it's fixing a conveyor belt, calming a tough customer, or streamlining a process in a single afternoon. With a knack for juggling technical know-how, team support, and practical solutions, I bring a steady hand and a sharp eye to any crew, delivering results that save time, cut costs, and lift everyone up. Employers get a dependable all-rounder who's just as comfortable with a wrench as I am with a spreadsheet, ready to add real value without the fuss.
